

Henasedayîn | Exhale

INSTALLATION

In the space where the video will be projected, as a reference to the barricades at the time, I would like 7 stones of different sizes to be set before the screen along with a white flag raised on a stick next to them. During that period, this flag was used as a symbol by civilians. The barricade is also inspired by the real ones set up by children attempting in their own way to stop the tanks from passing. While the barricades set up by the adults were high and solid, those of the children, like the one here, were rudimentary and fragile, but naive and touching...

